-  8:00 - 8:45 Registration with tea and coffee on arrival
-  8:45 - 9:00 Welcome and introduction, Helen Bain, Speakers Ink
-  9:00 - 10:30 Brett Lee, Specialist Internet Safety Consultant, INESS Australia Pty Ltd, Internet Education and Safety Services
Embracing the Digital World and Managing the Risk
Whilst young people are expert at using the Internet, they often lack the life skills to ensure their safety and accountability.
Brett will explore the value and necessity of embracing the online world for our youth balanced against the risks, responsibilities and dangers inherent through the internet.
-  10:30 - 11:00 Morning tea break
-  11:00 - 11:45 Cathy Oxley, Director of Information Services, Brisbane Grammar School
Promoting responsible Digital Citizenship within the school environment
Cathy will focus on the imperative that schools have a duty of care to teach students how to behave in responsible and ethical ways when using the internet. A negative online presence can have a profound impact on a student's learning, personal and professional life. Cathy's session will look at ways of helping students create a positive digital footprint and the process for developing a whole school Digital Citizenship program. Cathy will give examples of a wide range of sources schools can use when implementing such a program.
-  11:45 - 12:30 Brett Lee, INESS
Screenagers: Examining the power the screen holds over our youth
Focusing on – Social Networking, Cyber bullying, texting, peer to peer contact, chat rooms, stranger danger, file sharing programs, identity theft, protecting information and photographs.
-  12:30 - 1:15 Lunch break
-  1:15 - 2:00 Rob Priddey, Principal Advisor - Cybersafety and Reputation Management Learning Technologies, Information & Technologies, Department of Education and Training
Skills for Schools
With today's children now living and breathing ICT, the Queensland Department of Education and Training recently established its own cybersafety and reputation management team. Hear how this team of experts, led by former police detective Rob Priddey, has developed a toolkit to help schools adopt safe internet use and manage the risks associated by inappropriate online behaviours.
Discover how this program is working and what results the department has witnessed since it was implemented in early 2011.
-  2:00 - 2:45 Brett Lee, INESS
The Safety Net
A summary of how to identify areas of concern, guide students to modify inappropriate online behaviour and develop good online habits for life.

Brett Lee, Specialist Internet Safety Consultant, INESS Australia Pty Ltd, Internet Education and Safety Services

www.iness.com.au

INESS creator, Brett Lee, worked as a Queensland Police Officer for 22 years, 16 of those as a Detective in the field of Child Exploitation. In the 5 years prior to his retirement from The QPS, he was a specialist in the field of undercover internet child exploitation investigations. A talk conducted for students in 2001, whilst still a Detective, reaffirmed that education was the key. This realisation fuelled a passion that led to the creation of INESS which today has reached well over 100,000 students, teachers and carers with a message of Internet safety, awareness and responsibility. Now a fulltime speaker for INESS, Brett's mission is to equip and educate young Australians with the skills and knowledge required to enable them to use the Internet safely whilst making them aware of their rights and responsibilities in the cyber world.

www.libguides.brisbanegrammar.com/libraryhome

Cathy Oxley has been a teacher librarian for the past 20 + years, and is currently Director of Information Services at Brisbane Grammar School. She has worked at both primary and secondary levels and has presented at numerous state and national conferences. Cathy is a keen advocate for 21st Century ICT skills, but is also very aware of the need for students to develop responsible and ethical attitudes towards their online use and behaviour.

Rob Priddey, Principal Advisor - Cybersafety and Reputation Management Learning Technologies, Information & Technologies, Department of Education and Training

www.deta.qld.gov.au

Also a Queensland Police officer for 17 years, Rob Priddey now utilises his expertise as a Principal Advisor for Cybersafety and Reputation Management with the Department of Education and Training. In this role, he supports and provides advice to state schools on the management of online behaviours and the reputation of the school and its staff. He also works closely with regional directors, regional technology managers, institute directors and other departmental staff to oversee the department's issues of cybersafety and reputation management.
